FRIDAY, MARCH 6, 1903.

It is the 25th consecutive year that John A. Raymond has been elected town clerk.

The election was last Monday, the town meeting will begin in Odd Fellows' Opera House, East Weymouth, next Monday night.

The state of Missouri can count more apple trees than any other state in the Union but can not find a school fund which used to exist within her borders.

One-fifth of the members of the United States Senate are over 70 years of age and Massachusetts' white-haired old man of 83 is as ready for action as any of the four-fifths who are under 70.

There is an article in the warrant for Town meeting in relation to establishing an evening session with the regular laws of the state. Should the school be established it would be well to devote a year or two of it to instructions on the use of the ballot.

The question now is, how much does Dr. George E. Horr know of the morality of the western mining camps. In an address at a ministers' meeting in Boston on Monday, he is reported to have said that "the rural morality of Massachusetts was worse than that of the mining camps of the west."

There is a special session of the Senate of the United States now on, and judging by the reports of its sessions, it would seem that the extra session is for the purpose of adding to the talk already made and some of it will hardly compare favorably with an ordinary town meeting. Meanwhile the Panama canal is not being built.

Webster says a bullet is a missile, usually of lead, to be discharged from a rifle, pistol, pistol or other small firearm; but the revised version will say that a bullet is a thing called a bullet, which is taken into the mouth with forty names to be voted for and comes out with one name marked and thirty fine blank. See report of Weymouth election.

Weymouth voted no license but received the majority, 276, of a year ago to 256. The town received a special license with Precinct 6 in the lead. Precincts 1, 2, 3 and 5 voted "No" and 4 the above majority. It might inconvenience some voters but for the good names of Precincts 3 and 6. It would be a good idea to have the precincts re-arranged and do a little gerrymandering in doing so.

The ballot used last Monday had on it forty vacancies to be filled and a vote "Yes" and "No" on the license question, and a gentleman who watched the counting closely, informs us that the people who voted "Yes" on one of the forty vacancies voted "Yes" on the license. A man who isn't intelligent enough to fill out an entire ticket does not hold sufficient intelligence to be entrusted with a ballot. Let him vote according to the dictates of his conscience, but, if the ballot is not complete it should be void as much as though it contained too many names.

Committee on Appropriations.

The committee on appropriations met in the selectmen's room last Friday night and organized with the choice of M. E. Hawes as chairman and John H. Whelan as secretary. The committee met on Friday and Tuesday evenings to go over the articles on the warrant and will report to the business meeting to be held next week. Based on the valuation of 1902 the several recommendations of the committee will make a tax rate of a little rising $20.

School Committee Organize.

At a meeting of the school committee held Tuesday evening, T. J. Evans was elected chairman and Elmer E. Sherman secretary. Sub-committees will be appointed at an early day and work for the year mapped out.

Selections Organize.

At a meeting of the selectmen on Tuesday the same men occupied the same chairs as last year and the organization for the current year is George L. Newton chairman, and Bradford Hawes secretary.

Monday Club.

The Monday Club of Weymouth held its regular meeting on the afternoon of the 2d. The entertainment was highly instructive. Mrs. Atherton of Boston gave an address on Public Schools, presented on the future of the public schools. Mrs. Weston, son of Mr. Weston of Worcester, talked to the ladies on Civil Service Reform in a very intelligent manner. Mrs. Coddle of Watertown related the experience their club had in enabling several young ladies to receive training in the hospitals who proved to be excellent nurses. Miss Clara B. Adams of Lynn gave a full explanation of the reciprocity question.

Mrs. Holbrook, a member of the school board, was called upon to give a few facts on the town school. She responded cheerfully and in the plainest of her words, also showing how much more valuable work could be accomplished, especially in the lower grades, if manual training could be introduced. This we cannot have without more funds. There is an excellent opportunity for our clubs to make an appropriation.

Local club, Mr. Lewis Canterbury and Mrs. Rose Thayer Thomas, both of Weymouth, were delightful features, of the program.

The latter part of the afternoon was spent in the banquet room where the tables were decorated in the club colors, violet and white.

A Remarkable Case.

One of the most remarkable cases of a cold, deep seated on the lungs, causing pneumonia, is that of Mrs. Gertrude E. Farnum. Mrs. Farnum, who was entirely cured by the use of the Minute Cough Cure. She says: "The coughing and straining so weakened me that I ran down in weight from 148 to 92 pounds. I tried a number of remedies to no avail until I used One Minute Cough Cure. Four bottles of this wonderful medicine cured me entirely of the cough, strengthening my lungs and restored me to my normal weight, health and strength." F. W. Brown, Coughs.

FIFTY YEARS OF LIFE TOGETHER.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Denbroeder of East Weymouth, with their Children, Celebrate a Golden Anniversary.

Seventy-three years ago in the far away land of lake, canals, islands and prosperous dairy farms Adrian Denbroeder first saw the light of day, and in the same country about 1820 his wife, Elizabeth Reade began her earthly career.

The two spent their early days and the scenes of their birth and on March 24, 1824, were united in marriage in the country that gave them birth.

But two years of wedded life were and with patriotic zeal he enlisted in Co. A, 42d Regiment, and served during the adjustment of that regiment was a very good game of passing. Miss Loomey and Miss Carroll doing the scoring, while the Seniors played a very poor game with no scoring. The Freshman team played the best game of the season which has been played in our gym. The Seniors were handicapped by absence and sickness of their players, beside the large number of scholars there were no friends or relatives of the players who entered the competition. When these games were planned it was not intended to extend a general invitation to the public on account of lack of room, but we have found that a larger number can be accommodated than was reckoned on so the public will be welcome to witness the games of payment of five cents. The lineup of last Friday's game was as follows:

This afternoon the Sophomore and Freshmen boys played.

Sturgil Robinson, formerly of the Braintree High, and whose family has moved into Mr. Coway's house on Middle street, near the school, has entered the freshman class.

The recording secretary's report gives a record of the year. It is herewith given.

"They are slipping away, these sweet swift years."

"With a break in the rapid flow, We have a chance to see how they go To the beautiful past."

As we recount the work of the year, it is not an easy task so little has been accomplished. "We live in deeds, not in thoughts, not breaths."

It would be a pleasure to announce a marked increase in numbers, but with the withdrawal of one class, the withdrawal of one class we had no increase.

The enthusiasm with which the chapter ushered in the new century did not out on even with the close of the first year, having no definite line of work for nineteen hundred and two, the needful inspiration has been lacking.

A photograph of the Abigail Smith house in a neat frame was presented to the State Society for headquarters; a contribution was also made toward a clock for the same room.

The enthusiasm with which the chapter ushered in the new century did not out on even with the close of the first year, having no definite line of work for nineteen hundred and two, the needful inspiration has been lacking.

The rhetorical next week will be by the sophomore class and will consist of selections by Mr. Wendell Holmes, his program is as follows:

"The Boy," Mr. South.

Selection from "The Rhythmed Lesson," Miss Liberty.

"The September Gale," Mr. Adams.

Talk on "Nautilus," Mr. Torrey.

"The Chambered Nautilus," Miss Wilder.

"The Last Leap," Mr. Hanson.

"Aunt Tabatha," Miss Lane.

"How the Old Horse Won the Bet," Mr. Niles.

The odor of chlorine gas which came down from the laboratory Monday morning when the sophomores were making their experiments, caused some of the members of the upper classes who have taken chemistry of the days when they were making unfamiliar elements and trying to blow their heads off.

The senior-junior debate on the subject was held. Resolved: That the present protective tariff policy of the United States should be abolished, took place last Friday afternoon and considering the length of time allowed, both sides handled their sides well, though the general opinion seems to be that the seniors won. It would be unfair, however, to declare the seniors the victors as the time for results had been given on account of the length of the address.

The record of the past is closed and although we look with hopefulness into the future as expressed by the poet Longfellow.

A pilgrimage to Concord was made in September by several members. The sites visited, including the historic Wright's Tavern, left memories of unsatisfied yearning.

Meetings have been held regularly, accounts of which were sent to the local paper by the secretary.

Speakers have put us in touch with the work done outside giving the enthusiasm which only comes with personal contact.

We were privileged to entertain as guests our State Regent, Mrs. Heath, Miss Agnes Holbrook and Mr. Frank A. Bates. Mrs. Heath gave us an interesting account of her trip to Denver and D. R. convention. Miss Holbrook told of her work as a teacher in the South. A paper showing much research was read by Mr. Bates.

We reiterate the suggestion that increased intelligence in patriotic lines should be the dominant factor of future effort.

The calculating event of the year was a musical sale in the beautiful music room at the home of Mrs. F. O. Wellington. It was an artistic, social and financial success.

The record of the past is closed and although we look with hopefulness into the future as expressed by the poet Longfellow.

Whatever has been written shall remain, "Never be afraid to be again, for the world is still the same that shall be."

The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Georgia A. Robbins; Vice-president, Mrs. Albert E. Avery; Recording Secretary, Miss Emma E. Bates; Treasurer, Miss Josie Cummings; Historian, Mrs. John J. Loud; Executive Committee, Miss Lillian McGregor, Mrs. Thomas A. Watson, Mrs. James Brant, Mrs. J. Murray Whitecomb, Mrs. Mary Clark.

The best known men in his line from Boston to Plymouth and with him Mr. Denbroeder was a reporter as an artist in entomology and making garments.

After a year of service with Mr. Todd, Mr. Denbroeder received the idea of establishing business for himself and selected North Weymouth as a field for his work. Hardly, however, had he got in when the Civil War came.

A Former Weymouth Attorney Passes Away.

Samuel Weston, Weymouth, son of Mr. K. Weston, P. W. Weston of Boston, died on the 1st of January. He was extremely cheerful and sociable in his disposition, always kind hearted, sympathetic and unselfish.

His ambition prompted him to work beyond his strength, which coupled with the climatic conditions of this vicinity so different from that of his native town, undermined his health and about four years ago he was obliged to return to his home town, where he has ever since remained a great sufferer.

He bore his disappointments, illness and pain with fortitude and without murmur or complaint.

The funeral held at the home of his parents, March 2d, was largely attended by relatives and friends.

No mechanism can be made so perfectly that it will not at some time or at some point break down. No mortal can hope never to make a mistake or have a thoughtless moment.

He immediately entered upon the duties of his profession, opening an office at East Weymouth, where he resided, and Boston, being associated with his brother, Albert P. Weymouth of this town, and who looked eagerly forward to the time when his younger brother should become a member of the bar and associated with him. He applied himself to his chosen field with his accustomed zeal, and was active and successful, showing the same indefatigable industry that had characterized his education.

He did a good many more than money had bright prospects. By constant and unceasing toil he had well qualified himself for the legal profession in which he aspired to a high place.

Weymouth Baptists are very busy just now preparing for the half-century anniversary of their Bible school.

Next week Friday afternoon, March 13th, an entertainment, with music and refreshments, will be given the smaller scholars and accompanying piano. Friday evening there will be a reunion of the former members of the school and a reunion to parents and friends and workmen in neighboring schools; decorations, music, poem, ice cream and cake helping to make the entire evening one of memorable pleasure. To this, as to all other exercises, no personal invitations are extended, though announcements have been distributed; and of course it will be without cost to the attending. On Sunday, the 15th, historical addresses will be given in the morning, and in the evening will be singing by the children.

FRIDAY, MARCH 13, 1903.

Minister Brown is a very prompt man but he does not propose to be intimated into paying Germany $37,000 before it is due.

Bear in mind that the Town meeting is not done yet. There are several unfinished articles in the warrant and it is rumored that the storage batteries of eloquence (?) have been replenished.

When a man takes his oath that he voted six times in one day in the 8th district in Boston, he is either a first-class Ananias or there is something wrong in the system of registering and voting.

Dr. Parkhurst realizes the situation he is in and says "he has been talking too much of late." Some of our town meeting orators might even at this late day leave something from Dr. Parkhurst.

There were those who before the last State election questioned the strength of Gov. Bates' spinal column, but they are learning that he has got back bone enough to say "no" in the right place and sign his name to it.

The latest reports, that Bryan is not to run again for the presidency but a year or more will elapse before the conventions will be held and the story will be told both ways many times before the convention convenes.

First Church, Braintree.

A Vesper Service will be held in the Congregational Church at Braintree, at 6 o'clock on Sunday next. Miss Abby Shields, contralto, and Miss Besse Bell Collyer, violinist, will assist in the program.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Last Friday the sophomore boys beat the freshman boys at basketball ball by the score of 18 to 4. The score was a surprise to every one as both sides thought that the "soph" would run up a much larger score but they did not play as well as usual and the freshman boys did not play as well as usual. The sophomore boys beat the freshman boys three times for the goals and Merchant, Shuey and Burrell for the sophomores. Merchant and Shuey both had a large number of shots for the goal but, their aim was poor and Merchant threw only four goals while Shuey threw three. Burrell did not have many good chances but succeeded in throwing two goals. The game at times was a little too rough although no one was laid out. The summary of the game follows:

Sophomore Freshmen
L. South 1. F. Burrell
r. Merchant 1. G. T. Shuey
c. Shuey c. J. Joy
I. Whelan r. g. Burrell
L. L. Whelan r. f. Burrell
Referer—Mr. Merrill, Umpires—Looney '94, Reynolds '93, Timer—Mr. Sampson, Scorer—Hammett. Sophomore goals—Merchant, 4, Shuey, 3, Burrell, 3. Freshman goals—Joy, Burrell, 2. Sophomore fouls—Merchant, Shuey, Whelan. Freshman fouls—Bailey, Conathan, Times—2 fouls—Bailey, halves. Score—Sophomores 18, Freshmen 4.

Under Article 6 it was voted to raise and appropriate $500 for the support of public schools and one-half the dog tax and the income from the alevue fund was added to it.

Article 5 raised and appropriated $1,000 for transportation of scholars.

Article 6 was voted to refer to the establishment of a school in Weymouth.

The committee on appropriations recommended under Article 7 that $8,000 be raised and appropriated and that we appropriate $2,500 and little was known outside of the ex-chairman and the present chairman of where it had gone.

The assessors called Mr. Shuey to his feet and he spoke to quite a length in regard to irregularities and iniquities in taxing different pieces of property. The report, however, was accepted and on motion of John F. Dwyer the assessors are to publish in their next report a full list of violations.

It was voted to say in connection with the road appropriation that Mr. Mahoney took up the work of the lamented Mathew W. Lynch and his motion, that we pay appropriate workmen $2 a day and 8 hours constitute a day's work, prevailed.

At 10:15 the meeting adjourned to meet at the same place Friday night, the 13th, at 7:30 o'clock, when the warrant will probably be finished.

TOWN MEETING AT NIGHT.

A Few Sensations and Much Business.

By Comparison With Other Years and Other Towns The Meeting Was a Quiet One.

Weymouth tried the experiment Monday night of having a annual business town meeting in the evening instead of the day time. At 7 o'clock (it follows) Opera House in East Weymouth was filled to its fullest holding capacity with people from all parts of the town who had come to participate in the one important business meeting of the year.

Promptly on time, Town Clerk John A. Raymond read the warrant with its 58 articles and under Article 1 Louis C. Swan was elected moderator and the Water Works was elected chairman of the Water Committee.

Article 2 was to choose all necessary town officers, which was done by election, by ballot, and it was passed for the time being, and Article 3, to hear the report of town officers and committees was taken up.

The

Grip

Shattered My Nervous System.

Stomach Deranged, Liver Distant.

Dr. Miles' Nervine Cured Me Completely.

A slight cold in the head with fever, headache, and pain in the lungs and the eyes water and a soreness seems to permeate the marrow of the bones; this is the beginning of the disease. The disease follows in the shattered nervous system and the derangement of the heart and the digestive organs.

The last week in January I contracted LaGrippe. My nervous system was completely shattered, stomach badly deranged and heart deranged. I took treatment from my physician, but could get no relief. My condition became worse and worse until I heard of Dr. Miles' medicines I decided to try them. I purchased a bottle of Dr. Miles' Nervine and Nerve and Liver Pills. When I began taking the medicine I was one day out of bed and again in a worse state of fatigue than before.

Colin Cutler was the first to speak.

Like the others, he was a college bred man, who had gone west for pleasure and had come back to the east.

There were vague rumors that once, when he had caught a little Mexican cheating at cards and the latter had drawn a shiny mace, Cutler had cracked his knuckles and bent his back.

But he had broken his spinal column. But these were only rumors.

At any rate, Cutler had never shown the white feather, and he was mercifully dead.

The others of the group were Addie Easton, who had been center rush and "strong man" of his class at Harvard; Keen Taylor, the marksman from South Carolina; and H. L. Farren, the elder brother of the Kid, as brave as cool a fellow as ever sought his fortune in the west.

"I move," said Colin without glancing at the Kid, "and we send him back to the east. He's shown the white feather. A man who will break his guard isn't worth the bacon he eats. He goes tomorrow!"

Hal's eyes ran tenderly over the figure of the young widow.

"Wait a minute," he said slowly. "You haven't found out the facts of the case yet."

"The great fact is this: He wasn't here when I came back last night, and when I went to Ram country he might have carried off our goods if I hadn't stayed here."

"You're sort," said the Kid, taking his pipe out of his mouth for the first time. "Because you didn't know where I was."

For the first time since his childhood he could see things at a distance. His home, that he thought so fine, was found to be neglected and dirty; his precious pipe was chipped and broken; his books were sold and gone.

But the crowning blow came when a grand luncheon was given to celebrate the restoration of the critic's sight.

Women were invited in great numbers, and came in from the City Club, the Casino, the Vanderveer, the Odeon, were represented by their fairest ones, and the table "was a sight for the gods!"—until Sarvey came.

At least a moderate spring rise in security prices would seem inevitable; and every day such as Thursday last is a golden opportunity for the bargain-hunter.

THE COALERS.

Since the great coal strike, the anthracite coal roads have made a remarkable recovery in business. This has been especially true of Erie, Lehigh Valley and Delaware & Hudson. We believe that these stocks at present prices are extremely cheap, and in the course of a few weeks should return purchasers handsome profits.

Flower printed wash nets are among the new and attractive transparent dress textiles for the spring and summer seasons. They have all of the diaphanous and airy effect of chiffon and are far more durable.—New York Post.

CHARCHMEN.

Because he could not persuade his parishioners to give up raising tobacco, the Rev. Frank P. Bachelor, pastor of the First Congregational church of Hockomock, Conn., has resigned his charge.

Rev. E. W. Bishop, minister of South Church, Concord, Mass., is conducting a daily class of 130, who have given up smoking.

Dr. Edward Everett Hale says if he were a millionaire he would buy a large tract of land near Boston, divide it into four equal parts and rent each part on a nominal rental and at the end of ten years give them the houses.

FRIDAY, MARCH 20, 1903.

Grover Cleveland celebrated his 60th birthday on Wednesday and is vigorous enough to handle a gun or rod, believes in still taking an active interest in public matters and is liable to be mentioned in one of the presidential conventions of 1904.

The finding of the coal strike committee is in the hands of the President and will be given to the public tomorrow. It is said to cover all the points of controversy and it is hoped it will avert a repetition of the strike events of the past.

"Old Home Week" promises to be one of the most interesting features of the summer. Massachusetts has taken hold of it with a liberal appropriation and an Old Home Association has been formed with the town at its head and a large list of towns most associated with him. At our recent town meeting Weymouth manifested a good interest in the matter by allowing an appropriation and every organization to bring together its absent members and review pleasant memories of the past.

W. B. Peakes, in this matter, not slow for the sentiment contained in it, but for the general good of the town. As a gentleman well said at the town meeting "the oldest town but one in the state and we ought to make it one of the best. Let everyone begin early and make 'Old Home Week' a success."

The Town meeting as a legislative body is now a thing of the past. The smoke of the battle has rolled away and we are at our leisure see where we are at.

With the single exception of the very foolish vote in regard to the Town House there was not an article in the warrant but what was in order and well done.

With the careful consideration of the people but it is always wise for town that it is for individual to hope everything they want even though they may have a use for it.

At the first meeting the committee on appropriation stated that their recommendation would make a tax rate of a little over $20.00 on the thousand but everything went and it is now up to the Assessors to find an increased valuation or to the people to meet the tax.

As far as I have been able to examine everything went, but it is very evident that a majority of the people do not realize that every time they raise and appropriate $1,000.00 that the assessors, with a tax rate of $20.00 on the thousand, have got to to find some where $50,000 to pay the $1,000.00 raised.

We have good well-managed and well-supervised schools, good roads, more than 100 miles of them, and a good superintendent to look after them. The poor in town are well cared for and what we want next is less croaking, a general brace up, a good word for the town all along the line and a $7,000,000 valuation.

Michael G. Mulcahey Dead.

Michael G. Mulcahey passed away at the home of Mrs. Hannah Cronin, Thursday, March 12, after a long and painful illness. The deceased was born in Weymouth January 11, 1853, and has always lived in the town. On Dec. 11, 1885, he married Annie M. Cronin of East Weymouth, who survives him.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception where Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. F. Lynch. The bearers were Robert Lonergan, Michael Murphy, B. J. Smith, John Smith, Daniel Cronin and Edward L. Madigan, friends of the deceased.

There were many beautiful floral offerings. The interment was at St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

Joseph Peakes Dead.

After a long and trying illness incident to the infirmities of age, Joseph Peakes passed away at his home on Hill street, East Weymouth, Sunday, March 15, the 81st year of his life. Mr. Peakes was a son of Joseph and Priscilla (Humphrey) Peakes and was born in the historic town of Hingham nearly 81 years ago. He was early apprenticed to the painter's trade and nearly sixty years ago with the late Martin Burrell, who was also a native of Hingham, came to East Weymouth and embarked in business under the firm name of Peakes & Burrell and were shortly known as the leading men in that line along the South Shore. The business continued for several years when the copartnership was dissolved. Mr. Peakes continued on the single name of Joseph Peakes, until impaired health a few years ago compelled a withdrawal from active work.

While a close applicant to business Mr. Peakes was not without interest in the affairs of his adopted town and village, and was always interested in the events of the day and public improvements and was always ready and willing to do his part.

Federal and social organizations found in him a warm advocate especially in Crockett Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member.

Funeral services were held at his late home Wednesday afternoon and were largely attended. Rev. Henry L. Bradford of the Congregational Church officiating and the Haynes quartette furnishing several appropriate musical selections.

Crochet Lodge, I. O. O. F., attended in a body, performed the burial services of the order and under its escort the remains were conveyed to the old cemetery at Hingham for interment. The bearers were F. G. Hayes, E. E. Orr, J. M. Bradford and Daniel Hart of Crochet Lodge and George H. Wise and Lorenzo Souther, neighbors.

Mr. Peakes married Lydia A. Waters, of his native town, who with several children have preceded him to the other world, leaving a single daughter, Miss Gertrude Peakes, who has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the removal of the last member of her immediate family.

As a young man he had an unusual right to visit a place and engage in a practice which he would not feel justified in publicly taking his best girl or his own dear sister, and inviting her to partake with him?

IRREPARABLE LOSS.

Rev. John F. Ford Called Home.

Weymouth and the World Loses a Valuable Worker Along Right Lines.

Rev. Fr. John F. Ford was born in Weymouth, and received his early education in the public schools of this town. After graduating from the grammar school and studying for two years in the High school, he entered Boston college from which he graduated and went to Rome and entered the American college.

Completing his ecclesiastical course, he was ordained to the priesthood, May 19, 1888 and came to the public tomorrow. It is said to cover all the points of controversy and it is hoped it will avert a repetition of the strike events of the past.

The poor in town are well cared for and what we want next is less croaking, a general brace up, a good word for the town all along the line and a $7,000,000 valuation.

Michael G. Mulcahey Dead.

Michael G. Mulcahey passed away at the home of Mrs. Hannah Cronin, Thursday, March 12, after a long and painful illness. The deceased was born in Weymouth January 11, 1853, and has always lived in the town. On Dec. 11, 1885, he married Annie M. Cronin of East Weymouth, who survives him.

Funeral services were held Saturday morning from the Church of the Immaculate Conception where Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. F. Lynch. The bearers were Robert Lonergan, Michael Murphy, B. J. Smith, John Smith, Daniel Cronin and Edward L. Madigan, friends of the deceased.

There were many beautiful floral offerings. The interment was at St. Francis Xavier cemetery.

Joseph Peakes Dead.

After a long and trying illness incident to the infirmities of age, Joseph Peakes passed away at his home on Hill street, East Weymouth, Sunday, March 15, the 81st year of his life. Mr. Peakes was a son of Joseph and Priscilla (Humphrey) Peakes and was born in the historic town of Hingham nearly 81 years ago. He was early apprenticed to the painter's trade and nearly sixty years ago with the late Martin Burrell, who was also a native of Hingham, came to East Weymouth and embarked in business under the firm name of Peakes & Burrell and were shortly known as the leading men in that line along the South Shore. The business continued for several years when the copartnership was dissolved. Mr. Peakes continued on the single name of Joseph Peakes, until impaired health a few years ago compelled a withdrawal from active work.

While a close applicant to business Mr. Peakes was not without interest in the affairs of his adopted town and village, and was always interested in the events of the day and public improvements and was always ready and willing to do his part.

Federal and social organizations found in him a warm advocate especially in Crochet Lodge, I. O. O. F., of which he was a member.

Funeral services were held at his late home Wednesday afternoon and were largely attended. Rev. Henry L. Bradford of the Congregational Church officiating and the Haynes quartette furnishing several appropriate musical selections.

Crochet Lodge, I. O. O. F., attended in a body, performed the burial services of the order and under its escort the remains were conveyed to the old cemetery at Hingham for interment. The bearers were F. G. Hayes, E. E. Orr, J. M. Bradford and Daniel Hart of Crochet Lodge and George H. Wise and Lorenzo Souther, neighbors.

Mr. Peakes married Lydia A. Waters, of his native town, who with several children have preceded him to the other world, leaving a single daughter, Miss Gertrude Peakes, who has the sympathy of a large circle of friends in the removal of the last member of her immediate family.

As a young man he had an unusual right to visit a place and engage in a practice which he would not feel justified in publicly taking his best girl or his own dear sister, and inviting her to partake with him?

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

A meeting of the Athletic Association was held in room 3 Thursday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a base ball team. Mr. Sampson was elected manager; Mr. Merrill treasurer; Looney, 04, assistant manager; and Allen, 03, captain. It was voted to appoint a committee, consisting of one from each class, to see that the members of the various schools in come out for practice. Reynolds, 03; Cate, 04; Sheehy, 03; and Joy, 04, are the committee. Looney, 04, and Lyons, 03, were appointed a committee to find a suitable field near the school for practice.

Quite a large number of the fellows have been out now and after school for practice. The principal trouble seems to be the lack of a good pitcher and a catcher, the pitcher being the most uncertain. There is nobody at the High this year who can come up to Mitchell, who pitched last year, and it will be hard work to find a fellow who can do the position.

The committee on field have been unable to secure a location near the school, but it is hoped they can find some suitable place to play, although it may not be near the school.

The girls' basketball team defeated the girls' team of the Braintree High school in our gym Tuesday afternoon, by a score of 29 to 3. The Braintree girls were outclassed from the start, Weymouth throwing the first goal in less than half a minute from the time the whistle blew. Weymouth played two teams in the first half Misses Bailey, 04; Vining, 04, played in the second. The Braintree team was defeated in the first half by 13 to 10, and in the second by 16 to 10.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1903.

Open air concert season began last Friday night and frog solos, quartettes and choruses were wailed along by the evening.

There are two United States senators Platt, one from New York and one from Connecticut, and the man from the Nutmeg state stands proudly forth as the cleanest politician.

Superintendent Doogue has played up Boston Common and instead of seeing it down again to ground, it would be a good idea to come up. Pictures on it, and let it out for potato patches for a few years.

Morgan, Gage and other New York millionaires can take a lesson from Carnegie in tax paying. He did not hold up his hand and swear off stepped up and paid the largest personal tax in Greater New York.

The birds, opening buds, and military stores to the public is here. You can hear birds and see the buds everywhere but to get at the military read the many ads. in this issue and then go to the places advertised; you need not go far to find the best and most attractive goods.

The finding of the coal strike committee, which embraces all the different features, is in the hands of the people. It cost the government $6,000 to produce this report and it cost $10,000 to make it conclusive and its findings negative. As the people pay for both sides of the contest we can sit down and count the cost. Strikes come high but we must have them until reason and right prevail.

Hetty Green found money enough last week to pay a dog tax of $2.00, which reminds us that there are several hundred dogs in Weymouth which are not worth $2.00, and it would be well to tax individuals, not to the town, if the revenue were to come from them was raised in some other way as the only product from them is an indirect one in the form of expletives which border on profanity and the expletives are justified in the language used. What right has a wretched yellow pup to live at the expense of a beautiful bed of flowers or shrubbery.

School Committee.

As we remarked a short time ago the school committee, organized with the choice of T. J. Evans as chairman, and superintendent of school, Elmer E. Sherman, secretary. The committee met again last week and mapped out the school year. The appointment of the school committee, sub-committees: Finances, Mr. Westworth and Mrs. Hobrook; teachers, Mrs. Hobrook, Messrs. Perry and Evans; repairs, Messrs. Evans and Westworth; supplies, Messrs. Drake, Perry and Evans; text books, Messrs. Lund, Drake and Evans; fuel, Messrs. Lund and Westworth.

Roads and Water.

At a joint meeting of the selectmen and water commissioners held last Thursday, Mrs. M. Low was unanimously elected as superintendent of streets and the water works for the year, which is another step in the right direction, as no one, however able, can work out a complete system of 110 miles of road and 90 miles of water main in a single year. In the nine months Mr. Low has been in charge of the two departments he has demonstrated that the idea of consolidating the two departments under one management, was a good one and greater results may be looked for in the future.

At the same meeting C. B. Cushing was again elected town accountant and the good work begun a year ago under Mr. Cushing's management and system, accounts of different departments are getting to be more generally understood and the Town report last issued met with a general approval than any which has ever been issued.

Mrs. Martha P. Schubert Dead.

After an illness of over a year, Mrs. Martha P. Schubert passed away at the home of her sister, Mrs. Phoebe S. Baker, Friday, March 20. Mrs. Schubert, a daughter of Charles and Lucy Clark Peter, who died in 1890, was born in that town 39 years ago last June.

She was educated in her native town and it was her home until two years ago when she moved to Boston where she was taken ill, and although treated by physicians there was no hope of recovery, she came to her sister in North Weymouth and made a gallant fight for life, bearing severe pain with patience and fortitude.

Sister and daughter did all in their power for her, and the end came quickly last Saturday.

She leaves to mourn her loss, a daughter Annie C. A. sister Mrs. Phoebe Baker, and a brother, Lyman J. Peterson at North Weymouth, and Charles A. Peterson, a brother at South Weymouth.

She will be missed as a kind and loving mother and sister, and one who was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in need.

Funeral services were held at the home of her sister, Mrs. Baker, Monday, Rev. T. V. Vining, officiating and a service appropriate to two of her favorite hymns, "Xmas. My God, to Thee" and "When the Mists have Roll'd Away." The burial was at the Old North cemetery.

TUFTS LIBRARY EXHIBITION.

A fine exhibition of Elson Prints will be hung in the Reading Room from March 25 to April 11th. Greek and Roman architecture, Greek sculpture, Egyptian architecture, Egyptian sculpture, and other makers of our nation are some of the subjects of these excellent prints. All who enjoy beautiful pictures should come to this exhibition.

Remember, too, that it's easier to look wise than to talk wisdom. Say less than the other fellow and listen more than you talk; for when a man's listening he isn't telling on himself and he's flattering the fellow who is.

FRIENDSHIP, CHARITY, BENEVOLENCE.
K. of P. Fair Will be an elaborate Event.

Four Evenings of Entertainment at Lincoln Hall Next Month.

Interest in the coming fair of Delphi Lodge, No. 15, K. of P., continues to grow and all present signs are indicative of success.

The event will open Tuesday evening, April 7, and will continue through the following three evenings. The committees in charge of the entertainments for the several evenings have striven, each to outdo the other, and each have secured the services of first-class talent to aid them in their efforts.

The entertainment for the opening evening will be charge of H. J. Baker, L. C. Williams, F. V. Vinal and A. P. Pease, and under their direction, the two acts, entitled "A Rice Pudding," will be presented.

G. E. Lunden, F. M. Drown, E. A. Whitmarsh and Edward Anderson have arranged the second evening's entertainment, which will be an excellent vaudeville program.

On Thursday evening, the North Weymouth members of the K. of P. will provide a dramatic entertainment, and the fair will open with a grand concert under the direction of W. W. Maranier, E. H. Bond, F. J. Drown and H. F. Poole.

Useful and fancy articles, dolls, candy, cake, flowers, groceries, etc., will be on sale each evening from booths which will be presided over by members of the Ladies' Sewing Circle connected with the Lodge.

Old Home Week.

At a well attended meeting of the Historical Society held Wednesday evening, John J. Louis presided in the chair, the object of the "Old Home Week" was the 25th anniversary of the meeting.

M. E. Hayes, Herbert A. Newton, H. B. Head, Walter L. Bates and John J. Louis were appointed as committee to formulate a plan of celebration and submitted the same to an adjourned meeting to be held in the rooms of the Weymouth Savings bank on the night of Friday, April 10th at 7:45 o'clock.

The Chief's New Uniform.

"Chief" Oakes of the Revere police has just appeared in a uniform becoming to his rank, with elaborate trappings, and he makes a fine appearance on the streets. He is said to be the tallest and heaviest police chief in the country. His uniform is in size, as compared with former chiefs of Revere, is much commented upon.—"Boston Post."

Weymouth's chief of police is by no means a small man, and the citizens of the town have long been waiting to see him appear in the new cap, those shoulder stars which were left at his residence one evening several months ago. In our opinion, the head of Revere's police department would have a strong rival for honors in the person of Weymouth's chief.

Come chief, don't be bashful, don that cap, those shoulder straps, and that handsome gold badge, and give your townsperson an opportunity to see the heaviest chief on the South Shore in all his official glory.

Old Colony Club.

A delightful musical, under the direction of Mrs. L. W. Atwood, was given at the Old Colony Club on Thursday afternoon.

Music, singing, dancing, opened with a singer. "The Development of Music in America," very charmingly read by Mrs. Atwood, and of much interest to the audience. This was followed by solo by the artists, Miss Anna Cobb, soprano, Boston; Miss Florence J. Adams, contralto; Boston; Mr. George V. Kells, baritone, Boston. The program included songs by Chester H. Edes, Gordon Adams and Elbridge Dam.

"Ring out the Old, Ring in the New."

Eighty years ago, in the respectful family of the Sabbath, so called, in the days of old, times, commenced on the 21st of the sun in the Saturday of the week, the first of the month.

In my grandfather's family, Deacon Eben Hunt, all unnecessary work, was put aside and the Sabbath began; so the Sabbath ended on the setting of the sun. This is impressed on my mind from the story my father told me of his courtship days. He lived in Braintree, Dr. Storrs parish, and he walked cross lots; a long walk, so wanted to early start, from his implements, would leave home sometimes. The Sabbath sun had not yet risen when he started, if seeing him called out, "Elias, come back, the sun has not set," and my father always obeyed. "My eyes make pictures when I close them."

SIXTY YEARS AGO.

This I write of is from a school report, 1844. "The attention of the town is called by the committee to one thing which, however, may be of consider little importance; it is the subject of weekly vacations. Long established usages, through most, if not all the towns of New England, has allowed the school dismissal for the week at noon of Saturdays. This practise rests on substantial reasons. It gives the children a half holiday, and gives them an opportunity to employ them in certain preparations for the Sabbath, which are found necessary in most families, without taking them from regular school hours, or it may furnish the children an opportunity to prepare for their Sabbath school lessons, etc. For school committee, Rev. Stephen Lovell, Dr. Appleton Howe, Rev. Joshua Emery."

My cousin, Mr. Richard A. Hunt, told me when he was a child, his mother was much opposed to his playing it. At that time the violin was called "the Devil's instrument." Now at this time the so-called round dances, were not tolerated; only the steady cotillion and the old fashioned country dance. To-day, on Saturday nights, often, the girls, the fantastic toe in round dances to the sweet sounds of the wicked fiddle of old, and the young enjoy themselves and the parents looking on. Why not? Our churches are not filled with the mirth and gayety of the past. The time is a happy time for those who have but lately tasted a good thing. Still yesterday is the best day we have known.

EDMUND S. HUNT.

Letter to M. A. Turrell.
Weymouth, Mass.

Dear Sir: Your business, when a house burns down, is to give the owner some money to build a new one. It is a good business. Quer: that the world got on so long without it.

caskets pertaining to the grounds, and on inspecting the same found everything to be satisfactory and according to plan and agreement. They are now able to announce to the public that it is completed and ready for use whenever occasion requires, and it is certainly a great acquisition to the grounds, it is something of which there has been great need in the past, and the ladies who have so faithfully worked to obtain it are more than pleased with the results.
